- o Schedules for feasibility studies at low priority sites
 - Draft feasibility studies, if necessary, will be completed four months after a final remedial investigation report is issued for a particular site or group of sites
- o Tentative schedules for submittal of comprehensive corrective/remedial action plans at low priority sites
 - Draft corrective/remedial action plans, if necessary, will be completed three months after the Record of Decision (ROD) is finalized for a particular site or group of sites
- o Tentative schedules for implementation of corrective/remedial action plans
 - Implementation of corrective/remedial action plans will be initiated two months after final corrective/remedial action plans are issued
- o Low priority plumes and sources proposed for corrective/remedial action
 - No low priority plumes or sources have been proposed for corrective/remedial action because no information is currently available on the existence of either plumes or "continuing releases" from low priority sites. Preliminary information will not be available until the completion of an initial (Phase I) remedial investigation at a particular site. Corrective/remedial action for low priority plumes and sources will be proposed after the scheduled remedial investigations are completed

If you have any questions concerning this submittal, please contact T. C. Greengard at Ext. 7121.
